

CURRICULUM

Transgender Health Education () 2, 0.00

1012, part (b) 2, (1) (2), (d) . () (b) (c) .d =ND11()D 2 0, () (= (-), .1

A

Community-based participatory research (CBPR) is a collaborative approach to research that involves community members as partners in all phases of the research process. This approach is particularly useful for addressing health disparities in underserved populations.

Transgender health care providers should be trained to provide culturally competent care. This includes understanding the unique needs and experiences of transgender individuals and providing affirming and safe care environments.

